

UNIC x Feminist Society's 'Fempower Festival'

UCC's Feminist Society hosts the Fempower Festival event annually, showcasing different aspects of feminism through various workshops, panels, and activities. This year, the Fempower Festival will be held on March 4th to 6th which includes daytime and evening events. Previous versions of this event have addressed topics such as; intersectionality, stalking, #MeToo, care, literature, and global feminist movements. This event has also seen the launch of the national inter-varsity feminist cooperation, which ties in all Irish feminist societies for greater collaboration.

This year, we hope to involve UNIC by inviting the expertise of our partner universities in organising hybrid / online workshops. Likewise, we hope to extend a similar invitation to partner Feminist Societies to coordinate pan-European perspectives on feminism and include events being hosted in other universities in our timetable. Through events like these, we hope to reach a new dimension in actualising the 'hybrid campus' model for our alliance.